

THE VERGE OF STARVATION

Persons Narrowly Escape Death.

at a Lonely Trading Post in Arctic Climate.

Just in Time to Save Lives—Taken to Men, Thence to Seattle.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 22.—On the verge of starvation and threatened with death at a lonely trading post on the Yukon, a woman, a child and two men, and a dog, were found when the schooner Emily Claudina reached Uka. The survivors were conveyed to the schooner and transferred to the steamer Victoria, which reached port this morning.

Who Composed Party.
The party consists of Cecil Meares, representing the London firm of Crompton and Meares, and Valentine Kocanski and a child. Meares has been engaged in trading with the Siberian natives and has been in the region for several years.

War Prevented Rescue.
Last year the company chartered a steamer to take them to the Kamchatka peninsula. After their arrival the war broke out between Russia and Japan and the Japanese merchantmen did not venture into Siberian waters.

Did Not Know of War.
Meares was not aware that the Japanese steamer was at war with another nation, and toward the latter part of last year he had been engaged in the trade of the arrival of the boat, and supplies for the summer day had been ordered for the schooner. Finally, on the 22nd, the schooner Emily Claudina was taken to the news that Meares was to be taken to Nome.

RECIPROCAL TRADE.

Papers Filled With Discussions on the Matter.

BAMBERG, Sept. 22.—Chancellor Von Bülow and M. Stöcker, Premier of Prussia, met here today to talk over personally the obstacles to the proposed commercial treaty between Germany and the United States. The failure of the negotiations through other causes has caused the failure of the treaty.

The German Chancellor's great project for the last few years ago, of heightening the tariff and negotiating therefor for reciprocal trade with other countries, is now in a serious condition. One more treaty must be won in order to bring the German tariff to a level with the tariff of the United States. The old treaties will then be revised and German foreign trade will be placed on a new basis.

The subject is of the greatest importance to the economic life of the empire. Count von Bülow's policy has been to secure a free trade with the United States. The Emperor, it is said, has given him a free hand.

TRUNK FULL OF DAGGERS.

Man Cause a Former Cincinnati Man Much Trouble.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 22.—Dr. Herman Bayless of Los Angeles, formerly of Cincinnati, has written to his sister, Mrs. L. L. Landow of Covington, La., about being arrested at the residence of a Japanese spy, Dr. Bayless, who was arrested on suspicion of being a spy for Germany. He was held for four days and then released. He was then arrested again and held for four days and then released. He was then arrested again and held for four days and then released.

WILL STAY FIVE DAYS.

Who Want "John Brown" Will Have to Hurry.

John Brown, the hero arrested by the government after the officer had been shot from his revolver last night, seems to be afraid of identification. He was made ugly yesterday by being photographed yesterday and fought the officers when they were about to strip him for scars. He was then taken to the hospital and his efforts to escape were taken. He was then taken to the hospital and his efforts to escape were taken.

Gov. Chatterton of Wyoming Writes Demanding Resignation.

Special to The Tribune.
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 22.—A sensation has been created in the irrigation world by the attack of Gov. Fenimore Chatterton of Wyoming on Frank H. Newell, chief hydrographer of the reclamation service. Gov. Chatterton seeks to force Newell's resignation on the ground that the latter is covertly antagonizing private enterprises in the West and working in connection with Maxwell in the interests of big railroad corporations.

In a recent issue of the Omaha Bee Mr. Newell gave out an interview in which he stated: "I don't know of any of the big private irrigation schemes in the West which are what may be termed legitimate development enterprises. They are exploited to sell bonds and not to water lands."

A short time after the publication of this article Gov. Chatterton wrote to the department protesting against the "slandering and libelous article," and asking that Newell be requested to resign his position so that a man whose policies are not inimical to the arid West could be appointed in his place.

SENTENCED TO THE PEN.

Train Bandits Plead Guilty and Get Fifteen Years.

PHILIPSBURG, Mont., Sept. 22.—George P. Hammond, who confessed to holding up the North Coast at Bearmouth last June, today, in the District court, pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny and burglary, and was immediately sentenced to fifteen years in the State penitentiary at hard labor. Hammond, who had his sentence was pronounced and seemed anxious to at once begin his term.

It has been the intention to try Hammond on the charge of murdering Engineer Dan O'Neill, who was murdered in the hold-up of the North Coast at Bearmouth a year ago, but the evidence obtained by the officers was of too flimsy a character to warrant trying the train-robber on that charge. Christie, the self-confessed pal of Hammond, yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny, was sentenced to seven years and taken to the penitentiary.

FLAMES AGAIN BREAK OUT.

Rainstorm Not Heavy Enough to Quench Forest Fires.

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 22.—The rainstorm yesterday was not heavy enough to put out the forest fire which has been raging for the past two weeks in Warm Springs canyon, near Anaconda. A change of wind fanned the smoldering embers into fierce flames and the fire started off again on a rampage toward the Twin Lakes country. The residents of the county west of Anaconda are hoping for a snowstorm. It is said that should a heavy snowstorm come the fire would be smothered. The ground itself seems to be afire from the burning of the roots. A snowfall would smother the embers and there would be no further danger.

Prominent Farmer Missing.

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 22.—William Krelger, one of the well-known farmers living in the western part of Missoula county, has been missing from his home for some time, and his friends fear that he may have met with foul play. Sheriff Thompson was notified, and Deputy Sheriff Watson left for Thompson to investigate the case.

BOBBY MISSING MAN FOUND.

Dynamited to Surface of Sun River by Searchers.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Sept. 22.—The body of L. A. Enders, the man who mysteriously disappeared twelve miles from this city ten days ago, and for whom hundreds of people have been searching, was dynamited to the surface of Sun river shortly after noon today, from where it had lain in a deep hole, from where it had been taken to a charge of grand larceny and burglary, and was immediately sentenced to fifteen years in the State penitentiary at hard labor. Hammond, who had his sentence was pronounced and seemed anxious to at once begin his term.

It has been the intention to try Hammond on the charge of murdering Engineer Dan O'Neill, who was murdered in the hold-up of the North Coast at Bearmouth a year ago, but the evidence obtained by the officers was of too flimsy a character to warrant trying the train-robber on that charge. Among the old chemists gold was symbolically represented by the sign @. —Webster's Dictionary.

It looks like a bulls-eye.
It is a bulls-eye.

Whoda thought those old chemists knew so much. Hundreds of years ago they adopted this symbolical sign, and yet they knew nothing of Utah politics, tariff reform, nor trust mergers. We all know that the one who hits the most bulls-eyes in the financial, political and social world generally has the most gold, but we don't know much about chemistry.

It's peculiar our diverted and dissimilar intellects should so thoroughly coincide as to the appropriateness of the sign.

Evolve the thought and think—are we evolving into natural born chemists, or are we going to stop at the bulls-eyes?

We collected one hundred and twenty-five dollars for Mr. William Kirkup of Franklin, Idaho, last week. So far as we know, he is not a chemist, but he hit the bulls-eye, and is one hundred and a quarter ahead. It was an old note. It was torn and ragged; had to be pinned together. Its fragments had long lost whatever glitter they ever had, but the gold we traded the note for was as bright as a midday's sunbeam. Do you need any of this kind of gold? If so, send us your old, mildewed and mossbacked claims and notes. We will make some bulls-eyes by collecting them, and you will get some gold.
